Note :

Lucent Technologies has just recently received a copy of the ITU-T H.624 Recommendation | ISO/IEC 14496-10 International Standard and as yet has not had the opportunity to study it to determine whether patents in our portfolio are required to implement it. This study will be undertaken in the near future, but until then, we cannot say with certainty that we hold granted patents and/or pending applications, the use of which would be required to implement the ITU-T Recommendation | ISO/IEC International Standard. We can declare that our policy is to grant licenses on a Reasonable and Non-Discriminatory basis, with the requirement of reciprocity. Once the study has been completed, Lucent Technologies will update this declaration.
