

EXPANDING
HORIZONS

WORLD TELECOMMUNICATION DAY
17 MAY 1984

World Union for National Communications

Introduction

The World Union for National Communications (WUNC) was established in 1978 as a non-governmental organization. Its purpose is to promote the development of national communications systems and to provide a forum for the exchange of information and experience among its members.

Membership

WUNC is open to any country or organization that is interested in the development of national communications systems. Membership is free of charge. The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

Conclusion

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The organization is currently open to all countries and organizations that are members of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).

INTERNATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATION UNION