I. INTRODUCTION

For the International Telecommunication Union, 1952 was over-shadowed by the quinquennial Plenipotentiary Conference which met in Buenos Aires from October to December. Preparations for the Conference, and then the Conference itself, gave the General Secretariat a great deal to do. It nevertheless continued to perform its traditional duties in the normal way, the difficulties arising because of the temporary absence of part of its staff being overcome by the devoted application of all officials.

The year 1952 will also be marked, for the General Secretariat, by the entry into force of the Extraordinary Administrative Radio Conference Agreement (Geneva, 1951). Due to implementation of the new frequency notification and registration procedure, several officials had to be transferred from the Radio Division to the International Frequency Registration Board.

In what follows, an account will be given only of the activities of the General Secretariat properly so-called. For information about the work of the other permanent organs, reference should be had to the special reports issued thereon. However, since the Secretary-General is responsible for implementation of the budget and for staff administration in all the permanent organs, the finances of the Union, and its staff, considered as a whole, will be discussed hereinafter.

II. MEMBERS AND ASSOCIATE MEMBERS OF THE UNION

In Annex 1 to this Report will be found a table showing the situation of the various countries in relation to the Atlantic City Convention (1947) and Regulations annexed thereto.

It will be noted that, during the period 1 January 1952—1 March 1953, the Republic of the Philippines ratified the Atlantic City Convention, and that the following countries acceded thereto as Members of the Union: the Kingdom of Cambodia, the Republic of Korea, the Kingdom of Laos, the United Kingdom of Libya, and the Federal German Republic. Further, the following groups of territories, formerly included among those known as: "Colonies, Protectorates, Overseas Territories and Territories under Mandate or Trusteeship of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland" (a Member of the Union), have become Associate Members:

British West Africa (Nigeria [including the Cameroons under the trusteeship of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland], Gold Coast [including Togoland under the trusteeship of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland], Sierra Leone and Gambia);

British East Africa (Colony and Protectorate of Kenya, Protectorate of Uganda, and Territory of Tanganyika under the trusteeship of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland).

The United Kingdom of Libya applied for Membership of the Union from 1 January 1952. The consultation closed on 11 June 1952, and the application was successful. The instrument of accession of the United Kingdom of Libya was on 3 February 1953 lodged with the General Secretariat.

Applications for Associate Membership, presented by the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland on behalf of British West Africa (the consultation closed on 20 July 1952) and British East Africa (the consultation closed on 18 April 1952) were likewise successful.

The votes cast by Members of the Union in connection with these three applications appear in Annex 2.

The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland also submitted an application for Associate Membership on behalf of the British territories in South-East Asia, comprising: the Federation of Malaya, the Colonies of Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak, and the State of Brunei under British Protectorate, this group to constitute a single Associate Member to be known as "British Malaya-Borneo Group". The consultation closes on 6 May 1953.

* * *

According to Article 1, paragraph 2, of the International Telecommunication Convention of Buenos Aires, which will enter into force on 1 January 1954:

"A Member of the Union shall be:

- a) any country or group of territories listed in Annex 1 upon signature and ratification of, or accession to, this Convention, by it or on its behalf;
- b) any country not listed in Annex 1 which becomes a Member of the United Nations and which accedes to this Convention in accordance with Article 16;
- c) any sovereign country not listed in Annex 1 and not a Member of the United Nations which applies for Membership in the Union and which, after having secured approval of such application by two-thirds of the Members of the Union, accedes to this Convention in accordance with Article 16."

The list referred to in sub-paragraph a) above appears in Annex 3 to this Report, with an indication of the countries which have signed the Buenos Aires Convention.

Article 1, paragraph 4 of the Buenos Aires Convention reads as follows:

“ An Associate Member of the Union shall be:

- a)* any country, territory or group of territories listed in Annex 2 upon signature and ratification of, or accession to, this Convention, by it or on its behalf;
- b)* any country which has not become a Member of the Union in accordance with paragraph 2 of this Article, by acceding to this Convention in accordance with Article 16, after its application for Associate Membership has received approval by a majority of the Members of the Union;
- c)* any territory or group of territories, not fully responsible for the conduct of its international relations, on behalf of which a Member of the Union has signed and ratified or acceded to this Convention in accordance with Article 16 or 17, provided that its application for Associate Membership is sponsored by such Member, after the application has received approval by a majority of the Members of the Union;
- d)* any trust territory on behalf of which the United Nations has acceded to this Convention in accordance with Article 18, and the application of which for Associate Membership has been sponsored by the United Nations.”

The groups of territories referred to in Article 1, paragraph 4 a) of the Buenos Aires Convention appear at the end of Annex 3 to this report.

III. STAFF OF THE UNION

Staff numbers increased during 1952 because of the decisions taken by the Extraordinary Administrative Radio Conference in 1951.

Four General Secretariat officials were transferred to the I.F.R.B. to assist it in the performance of its tasks. 39 temporary and supernumerary officials were also engaged, 4 of whom were seconded from the administrations of I.T.U. Members: the Federal German Republic, China, France and Sweden, by virtue of Administrative Council Resolution 232. The others were for the most part minor officials locally recruited.

On 31 December 1952, the staff of the various organs paid out of the ordinary budget, were apportioned as follows (including all the senior officials):

	Permanent	Temporary	Supernumerary	Total
General Secretariat . . . . .	57	26	2	85
I.F.R.B. . . . .	30	26	13	69
C.C.I.F. . . . .	13	3	—	16
C.C.I.R. . . . .	9	4	1	14
C.C.I.T. . . . .	1	1	—	2
	<hr/> 110	<hr/> 60	<hr/> 16	<hr/> 186

Apportionment by salary classes

Salary class	General Secretariat	I.F.R.B.	C.C.I.F.	C.C.I.R.	C.C.I.T.	Total
A . . . . .	1	11	1	1	—	14
B . . . . .	2	—	—	1	—	3
D . . . . .	5	—	1	—	1	7
1 . . . . .	9	2	1	3	—	15
2 . . . . .	13	1	2	1	—	17
3 . . . . .	2	5	2	—	—	9
4 . . . . .	3	3	4	—	—	10
5 . . . . .	20	19	3	4	1	47
6 . . . . .	18	22	—	3	—	43
7 . . . . .	9	5	2	1	—	17
8 . . . . .	3	1	—	—	—	4
	<hr/> 85	<hr/> 69	<hr/> 16	<hr/> 14	<hr/> 2	<hr/> 186

Geographical distribution

In recruiting the additional staff mentioned above, the principle of internationalization was applied as far as possible, although the great majority of these officials, in classes 5 to 7, were locally recruited.

Thus, out of 43 additional officials, no more than 16 are Swiss. The following are the other nationalities represented:

Chilean . . . . .	1
Chinese . . . . .	1
Colombian . . . . .	1
Dutch . . . . .	1
French . . . . .	6
German . . . . .	1
Indian . . . . .	1
Italian . . . . .	1
Polish . . . . .	2
Spanish . . . . .	3
Swedish . . . . .	1
United Kingdom . . . . .	5
United States . . . . .	1
Stateless . . . . .	2
Total . . . . .	27

As indicated above, 4 of these officials were detached from administrations (Federal German Republic, China, France and Sweden), in accordance with Administrative Council Resolution 232. The others, all of whom belong to Classes 6 and 7, were recruited locally.

IV. THE FINANCES OF THE UNION

In the Financial Operating Report, published separately, is given complete information, and all relevant data, in connection with the finances of the Union. However, it was considered that the 1952 and 1953 budgets might usefully be compared here, in order that readers may have some idea of the credits allocated to the various activities of the I.T.U.

Hence:

- a) the budgets for 1952 and 1953 appear in Annex 4, in the form adopted by the Administrative Council and prescribed in Articles 9 and 10 of the I.T.U. Financial Regulations, and in the annex thereto;
- b) the budgets for 1952 and 1953 appear in Annex 5 in the form prescribed in Article 11, paragraph 4, of the I.T.U. Financial Regulations, i.e., in the summarized form adopted by the United Nations and the other specialized agencies.

* * *

The attitude of the Buenos Aires Plenipotentiary Conference to basic issues in connection with I.T.U. finances might, we feel, be usefully described here, with particular reference to budget lay-out, cash, the fiscal limit on ordinary expenditure, and contributions outstanding.

1. Consolidated budget and Working Capital Fund:

The Buenos Aires Conference was called upon to consider the question of whether a consolidated budget and working capital fund should be instituted, but took the view that it was undesirable to change the structure of the Union budget or to set up a working capital fund for the time being. Hence it asked the Administrative Council to study the problems involved by these two questions and to submit a report to Members and Associate Members, as well as to the next Plenipotentiary Conference.

2. Fiscal limit on ordinary expenditure:

The Buenos Aires Conference upheld the principle that a limit be set to ordinary expenditure. In its Additional Protocols III and IV, it specified a limit for each year from 1953 to 1958. The figures in question, in the neighbourhood of six million Swiss francs, represent an increase of 50% in relation to the limit set in 1947 by the Atlantic City Conference.

It should be noted that this increase is allocated exclusively to pay for an extension of I.T.U. activities, and in no way results from changes in the salary scale for staff, which remains the same as at Atlantic City, apart from insignificant changes affecting the salary of the Secretary-General (who no longer belongs to a class) and the scale for the lowest class (Class 8), which has been slightly improved.

3. Outstanding contributions:

At every session, the problem of outstanding contributions has been a source of anxiety for the Council. Because of the difficulties encountered, the Conference was called upon to consider this matter, and took the requisite decisions with regard to the three categories of outstanding contributions, namely:

- a) outstanding contributions not queried;
- b) outstanding contributions queried;
- c) contributions in suspense for special reasons.

a) Outstanding contributions not queried:

In this connection, the Conference appealed direct to the Members concerned. The result was heartening. Hence the Conference did not consider it necessary to consider sanctions against defaulters.

b) Outstanding contributions queried:

These have arisen from difficulties in interpreting the Convention and certain Atlantic City resolutions (particularly Articles 14 and 15 of the Convention). A particular problem was the question of how expenses for certain conferences and meetings should be apportioned (cost of using additional languages, and whether recognized private operating agencies should be required to contribute).

In substance, Buenos Aires Resolutions 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 confirmed the decisions taken by the Administrative Council, and invited the Members concerned to pay the sums in question—amounting to about 770,000 Swiss francs in all. In one case only did it decide to write off a debt to profit and loss; the amount in question was a small sum of 5,840 Swiss francs.

c) Contributions in suspense for special reasons:

These related to accounts in abeyance because of events which took place in the Second World War. On the grounds that it was exceedingly hard to decide to which Members of the Union some of these debts should be charged, the Conference decided to write off a total of 372,050 Swiss francs, representing these debts (Resolution 12). However, the operation will be spread over ten years, in order to stagger the financial burden which will result for Members and Associate Members.

V. THE ACTIVITIES OF THE GENERAL SECRETARIAT IN 1952

RELATIONS WITH ADMINISTRATIONS

During 1952, the Secretary-General continued to maintain close relations with administrations in performing the duties prescribed in Article 9 of the Atlantic City Convention and in Chapter 1 of the General Regulations annexed thereto.

In 1952, these relations fell into five main classes:

1. Preparation for the Buenos Aires Plenipotentiary Conference, and provision, in cooperation with the inviting government, of the secretariat of that Conference.
2. Communications which, in the normal course of events, or in application of an Administrative Council decision, are sent to administrations, either by circular letter or by circular telegram.
3. Transmission of information to administrations by means of service telegrams and the fortnightly Notification.
4. Special correspondence with administrations, further to data supplied by them for publication in service documents, or as a result of individual requests for information made by administrations.
5. Correspondence with administrations regarding proposals of candidates for posts under the Technical Assistance Programme.

* * *

As regards item 1 above, the General Secretariat issued, before the opening of the Buenos Aires Plenipotentiary Conference, a series of 657 proposals submitted by administrations. This printed series was produced on loose leaves and it included a main volume and four supplements. The use of the loose-leaf system was in the nature of an experiment and reactions of administrations will be studied with a view to deciding whether to adopt this system for proposals for future conferences. The General Secretariat also printed and distributed to administrations the Report by the Administrative Council to the Plenipotentiary Conference, a document of 126 pages. The secretarial work of the Conference itself is dealt with in a subsequent section of this Chapter.

* * *

As regards the communications described under item 2 above, the General Secretariat, during 1952, had occasion to exchange correspondence with administrations on a variety of questions. Here are the more important:

- a) Applications for Membership or Associate Membership of the Union.
- b) Assembling of the requisite material for new or revised editions of service documents, or orders for such documents.
- c) I.F.R.B. weekly circulars, in accordance with Nos. 322 and 360 of the Radio Regulations, relative to notifications of frequency assignments received by that body and I.F.R.B. findings in connection with notifications already circulated.

- d) Transmission of Administrative Council decisions in connection with participation in the United Nations Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance; announcements of acceptance of the Convention on Privileges and Immunities of the Specialized Agencies and invitations to new Members to accede to that Convention.
- e) Communications published by Circular-Letter at the request of individual administrations, making known their attitude or views in relation to particular problems or to matters of major importance.

* * *

The information referred to in item 3 above was regularly brought to the notice of administrations by circular telegram (in urgent cases only), by the printed Notification, or by other means. Circular telegrams are invariably reproduced in the following Notification. In 1952, 72 circular telegrams were despatched.

As regards item 4 above, the General Secretariat corresponded frequently with administrations in efforts to ensure the prompt publication of documents in as complete and accurate a form as possible, but an appreciable number of administrations still fail to furnish information for certain documents.

As regards the supply of information for publication in service documents, and correspondence relative thereto, mention should be made of the important changes which took place in 1952 in connection with frequency assignment communications. The Final Acts of the Extraordinary Administrative Radio Conference (E.A.R.C.) lay down (Article 36, para. 1) that: "the Secretary General shall publish a final recapitulative supplement to the 16th edition of the I.T.U. List of Frequencies between 14 kc/s and 27,500 kc/s, containing particulars of all notifications and modifications received from administrations up to 29 February 1952".

Paragraph 2 of this article lays down that the Radio Frequency Record shall replace the I.T.U. Frequency List as a service document, and it will go on being published until the effective date of the complete new International Frequency List.

Hence, in accordance with the Atlantic City Radio Regulations, preparation of the Master Record on which the Radio Frequency Record (a service document) is based is a responsibility of the I.F.R.B.

As regards the List of Broadcasting Stations, particulars for which were previously supplied by administrations, implementation of the E.A.R.C. Final Acts entails implementation of almost the whole of Article 20 of the Radio Regulations, and, in particular, of No. 477 thereof, which lays down that "the necessary additions, modifications and deletions affecting Lists I" (the International Frequency List) "II" (List of Fixed Stations) "and III" (List of Broadcasting Stations) "are obtained by him" (the Secretary General) "from the notifications of frequency assignments made in accordance with Article 11, paragraph 2" (of the Radio Regulations), "for the purposes of the Master International Frequency Register."

It should be noted that in 1952 the last notifications for the I.T.U. Frequency List (Cairo system) were exceedingly numerous. It was, in fact, the last chance administrations had of notifying frequency particulars, in accordance with the Cairo Radio Regulations, before 29 February 1952, for inclusion in the last supplement to the 16th edition of that List (Recapitulatory Supplement No. 4). Thus it was that this Supplement No. 4 ran to no less than 1485 pages.

Under the heading of special correspondence, may be mentioned requests by certain administrations to publish complaints concerning a limited number of other administrations. These requests were treated by the General Secretariat in accordance with Resolution No. 262, adopted at the 7th Session of the Administrative Council.

As in past years, a number of requests for information were received from administrations in connection with the interpretation to be placed on Acts of the Union, the administrative regulations in particular. To all these requests, the Secretary-General replied that he had no authority to interpret the Acts of the Union, but he endeavoured to help to the greatest possible extent by supplying such strictly factual information as might be of assistance.

* * *

The year 1952 marked a steady progress in the amount and variety of material contributed to the Telecommunication Journal, and it would appear that efforts to stimulate greater interest of administrations in this publication are meeting with some success. Efforts to obtain additional revenue from advertisements also showed promising results. The general improvement in the contents of the Journal encouraged an attempt to improve its presentation and guided by observations made in the Administrative Council, arrangements were made to present, as from January, 1953, the three texts consecutively, instead of in parallel columns, and to introduce a more attractive cover. Administrations were invited to offer observations on these changes.

THE SECRETARIAT OF THE 7TH SESSION OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL

This was once more a very busy session. Apart from the usual documents, the secretariat had to draw up, and then published, the voluminous Report by the Council to the Plenipotentiary Conference, which was the basic document at the Buenos Aires Conference. During the Plenipotentiary Conference, the Council held a short session in order to complete and revise the report prepared at the 7th Session. The new Council, elected by the Buenos Aires Conference, also held a short inaugural meeting in Buenos Aires, on 16 December 1952.

CONFERENCE SECRETARIATS

The International Plenipotentiary Telecommunication Conference, Buenos Aires, 1952

The International Plenipotentiary Telecommunication Conference met in Buenos Aires, from 6 October to 22 December 1952. Eighty-two Members, and one Associate Member, were represented.

The presence of a high proportion of the senior officials, under the Secretary-General, was required in Buenos Aires. Nevertheless, all departments of the General Secretariat continued as usual in Geneva, under the Assistant Secretary-General in charge of the Radio Division.

The languages used were as follows:

- Spoken: English, French and Spanish with (as an additional language subject to Article 15 of the Convention) Russian;
- Documents: for working documents, English, French and Spanish.

The Final Acts were signed in the five I.T.U. official languages, and will be published in Geneva in the normal way, i.e., administrations will be able to order as many copies they like in the language they desire.

Total expenditure of the Conference amounted to some 1,635,000 Swiss francs, roughly equivalent to the Administrative Council estimates as approved by the Conference.

The Buenos Aires Convention was signed on behalf of 80 countries.

The European Very-High-Frequency Broadcasting Conference, Stockholm, 1952

This Conference met in the premises of the Association of Architects and Engineers, in Stockholm, from 28 May to 30 June 1952. Thirty-one Members of the Union were represented, together with a private operating agency and two other organizations; there were five observers. All in all, there were 139 participants.

Ten officials were detached from the General Secretariat, and two from the Swedish Administration, to act as a directing nucleus for the secretariat of the Conference.

The delegation of Spain was good enough to forgo the use of Spanish, and the Conference decided that English and French should be its working languages. At the request of four countries, Russian interpretation was provided, subject to Article 15 of the Convention and Administrative Council Resolution 84, i.e., at the expense of the countries concerned.

The working documents were published in English and French.

The Final Acts of the Conference, comprising the Agreement, the Plans, the Final Protocol and a recommendation, were signed by twenty-one countries. They were issued by the General Secretariat in English, Spanish and French, and printed by the offset process through the Swedish Telegraph Department, in Stockholm.

The budget, approved by the Administrative Council, less 70,500 Swiss francs provided for the use of Spanish, amounted to 291,000 Swiss francs. Actual expenditure amounted to 273,000 Swiss francs.

Publication of documents

In 1952, the business of the Publications and Despatch Section exceeded that of 1951.

Income in this Section amounted to some 1,650,000 Swiss francs.

In the course of the year, two editions of the List of Coast and Ship Stations were published. On the other hand, the publication of certain documents, planned for 1952, had to be postponed a few months, because of delay in preparation of the manuscripts. This applies to Volume III of the Radio Frequency Record, of the " Supplementary Information ", the new edition of the List of Fixed Stations, the List of Broadcasting Stations, and the List of Aeronautical and Aircraft Stations.

During 1952, all the documents resulting from the C.C.I.F. XVIth Plenary Assembly (Florence, October 1951) were published. For the time being they are in French only, but in accordance with the Council's instructions (Resolution 190), administrations have been asked whether they require English and Spanish editions. Orders not being enough to publish editions at the prices estimated on a basis of 700 copies sold, the secretariat has embarked upon a correspondence with subscribers in order to determine whether these documents, or at least some of them, might be published in Spanish and English.

During 1952, a number of documents have been issued which are not sold, but either distributed free or debited to conferences. They were: Collected Proposals for the Buenos Aires Conference, the Report by the Administrative Council to that Conference, the Annual Report to the United Nations (ECOSOC), the Secretary-General's Annual Report, the Financial Operating Report, and the List of High-Frequency Broadcasting Requirements submitted to the IFRB. All these appeared in English, French, and Spanish.

In Annex 6 hereinafter appears a list of documents published in 1952, with an indication of the number of copies printed.

In the course of the year, more than 67,000 parcels were sent off. Further, 935 cases of documents, and 12,547 packets or printed matter packets, were despatched by the staff from printing houses in Berne, Einsiedeln and Geneva.

Postage accounted for more than 165,000 Swiss francs.

VI. RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED NATIONS AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

United Nations

The most important event for the Union in the year 1952 was the Plenipotentiary Buenos Aires Conference, and during the greater part of this conference the United Nations was represented by one or more observers. The United Nations was also represented at the 7th Session of the Administrative Council and at the special session of the Council held in Buenos Aires. As far as practicable, the Union was represented at conferences and meetings of the United Nations at which questions of interest to it were discussed.

A list of conferences and meetings of the United Nations at which the Union was represented, and of invitations which were declined, during the period from 1 March 1952 to 28 February 1953, is contained in Annex 7.

In addition to the reciprocal representation at conferences and meetings, a considerable volume of correspondence was exchanged between the two organizations.

The more important questions dealt with during the year are briefly mentioned below:

Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the Specialized Agencies:

Article 4, section 11, of the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the Specialized Agencies provides that: "these agencies shall enjoy, for their official communications in the territory of each State party to this Convention, treatment not less favourable than that accorded by the Government of such State to any other Government, including the latter's diplomatic mission, in the matter of priorities, rates and taxes on mails, cables, telegrams, radiotelegrams, telephotos, telephone and other communications, and press rates for information to the press and radio". The seeming conflict between the above provision of the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the Specialized Agencies and the definition of Government telegrams and telephone calls contained in the Atlantic City Convention gave rise to discussion at the International Telegraph and Telephone Conference of Paris, 1949, and at several sessions of the Administrative Council.

The United Nations presented a comprehensive memorandum on this question to the Plenipotentiary Conference and proposed that the Heads of the principal organs of the United Nations and the Heads of the specialized agencies should be added to the list of authorities entitled to originate government telegrams and telephone calls. The Conference readily agreed to include the Heads of the principal organs but could not see its way to include the Heads of the specialized agencies. It adopted a resolution, however, under which a specialized agency wishing to obtain special privileges for its telecommunications might make representations to the Administrative Council.

The Conference further adopted a resolution in which the Secretary-General of the Union was instructed to request the Secretary-General of the United Nations to place before the 8th Session of the General Assembly of the United Nations the opinion of the Conference that Article IV, section 11 of the Convention on Privileges and Immunities of the Specialized Agencies should be revised.

United Nations Telecommunication Network:

At the 7th Session, the Administrative Council considered an offer by the United Nations to forward telegraph traffic of the specialized agencies over the telecommunication network of the United Nations at word rates which were specified. This question was reopened at the Plenipo-tentiary Conference when the United Nations made a proposal to carry the traffic at a charge equal to the pro rata proportion of the cost of operating according to the traffic carried. The Conference finally adopted a resolution in which it declared that in normal circumstances the United Nations point-to-point network should not be used to carry traffic of the specialized agencies in competition with the existing networks and instructing the Secretary-General of the Union to invite the Secretary-General of the United Nations to withdraw his offer to the specialized agencies.

Freedom of Information:

The 7th Session of the Administrative Council noted that the 7th Session of the General Assembly of the United Nations would probably revert to the question of freedom of information. The Council instructed the Secretary-General to follow the developments of this matter and to act in accordance with its earlier directives. In accordance with those directives the Secretary-General communicated with the United Nations with a view to ensuring that the terms of the draft Convention on Freedom of Information should not conflict with Articles 29 and 30 of the Atlantic City Convention.

By letter dated 14 August 1952 the United Nations communicated to the Secretary-General the text of a Resolution No. 442c (XIV) adopted by the Economic and Social Council in which it was decided to appoint a rapporteur charged with the preparation, in collaboration inter alia with the specialized agencies, of a substantive report covering major contemporary problems and developments in the field of freedom of information, for submission to the Economic and Social Council in 1953.

The general question of freedom of information in its relation to telecommunication was discussed by the Plenipotentiary Conference on the basis of certain proposals for amendment or deletion of Article 29 of the Atlantic City Convention. The Conference finally decided to retain Article 29 unchanged but it adopted a recommendation No. 2 entitled: “ Unrestricted transmission of news.”

The Specialized Agencies

The Atlantic City Convention does not provide for the representation of specialized agencies at plenipotentiary conferences of the Union. Since that Convention was signed in 1947, however the activities of many of the other specialized agencies have developed appreciably and the Buenos Aires Plenipotentiary Conference, at its first plenary session, decided to invite all the specialized agencies to participate as observers if they saw fit. The following agencies sent observers to attend various sessions:

- The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development;
- The International Monetary Fund;
- The International Labour Organization;
- The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization;
- The World Health Organization;
- The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization.

The General Regulations annexed to the Buenos Aires Convention make specific provision for the invitation of such specialized agencies as grant to the Union reciprocal representation at their conferences, to send observers to take part in plenipotentiary conferences of the Union in an advisory capacity. The year 1952 thus marked an important step in the consolidation of relations with other specialized agencies.

The following notes outline the more important particular relations with certain agencies during 1952:

Relations with the International Civil Aviation Organization (I.C.A.O.):

The question of the conditions for the use for the aeronautical telecommunication network for the transmission of various classes of telegrams was the subject of considerable discussion at the 7th Session of the Administrative Council and resulted in the adoption of Resolution 245 in which the Council of I.C.A.O. was asked to recommend its contracting States to abstain for the moment from applying certain recommendations adopted by the 4th session of the Communications Division and instructed the Interim Director of the C.C.I.T. to pursue studies at the official level with I.C.A.O. The Council of I.C.A.O. could not see its way to take the desired action with regard to its contracting States but took steps to pursue the studies at the official level.

Relations with the World Health Organization (W.H.O.):

The action of the Administrative Council at its 6th session in recommending special treatment for epidemiological telecommunications of exceptional priority was confirmed by a new provision in the Buenos Aires Convention.

Relations with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (U.N.E.S.C.O.):

Early in 1952, U.N.E.S.C.O. approached the Union with a view to collecting material for part of two books which it was proposed to commission, one entitled "Transmitting World News" and the other dealing with press agencies. The Union did everything in its power to assist U.N.E.S.C.O. both by oral discussion with various specialists and by putting documents at its disposal. The Secretary-General asked U.N.E.S.C.O. to make it clear, however, that the compilation of the factual material supplied and any opinions expressed in the books did not engage the responsibility of the Union.

In July 1952 U.N.E.S.C.O. wrote to the Secretary-General transmitting a statement of "Proposed action by U.N.E.S.C.O. at the Plenipotentiary Conference of the International Telecommunication Union". The action envisaged, in particular, steps to promote the free flow of information. The U.N.E.S.C.O. communication was published as a Conference document and considered along with some proposals of a similar nature, submitted by administrations. The matter aroused keen interest and was discussed at some length, in the presence of a U.N.E.S.C.O. observer. However, as mentioned above, under "freedom of information", the Conference merely adopted Recommendation 2, called: "Unrestricted Transmission of News".

Relations with the World Meteorological Organization (W.M.O.):

Liaison with this organization had always been close and transfer of its headquarters from Lausanne to Geneva further strengthened the bonds between the two organizations and facilitated more or less permanent contact between their secretariats, designed, more particularly, to ensure that meteorological information appearing in the documents issued by them should be concordant.

The I.T.U. was represented at the first session of the Maritime Meteorology Committee (London, July 1952). The main purpose of this meeting was to draw up a new set of regulations for marine meteorology and to revise the scheme for selected ships called upon to supply weather information from ocean areas. The I.T.U. representative was able to supply some useful information, and took note of a series of questions which may be submitted to the next Administrative Radio Conference by the meteorological telecommunication experts.

Relations with the International Labour Organization (I.L.O.):

Relations with this organization are more particularly concerned with administrative matters. They are exceedingly satisfactory and bear eloquent testimony to the spirit of collaboration obtaining between these two specialized agencies. Thus the I.L.O. has agreed to I.T.U. staff being affiliated to its own staff sickness insurance scheme, and did so with extreme courtesy and subject to the simplest and least burdensome conditions. Moreover, attention is being given to the possibility of allowing the Union and Union officials to have recourse to the I.L.O. Administrative Tribunal, in order that, in this sphere, they may enjoy the same rights as the United Nations and the other specialized agencies.

Relations with other International Organizations

International Committee of the Red Cross:

The International Committee of the Red Cross communicated to the Union the text of a resolution adopted by the XVIIIth Congress of the International Red Cross, 1952, regarding telegrams concerning war victims and requesting that this resolution should be laid before the Plenipotentiary Conference. This was done and the Conference adopted a recommendation to the next International Telegraph and Telephone Conference entitled “ Application of a special telegraph tariff for prisoners of war and for civilians interned in wartime ”.

International Federation of Newspaper Publishers, Proprietors and Editors (I.F.N.P.):

The General Assembly of the I.F.N.P. adopted a resolution advocating:

Further reductions in the charges for press telegrams, together with the abolition of the restriction of their texts to plain language;

The introduction of a system of reduced charges for press telephone calls;

Priority for press telegrams and press telephone calls of all categories.

This resolution was communicated to the Secretary-General of the Union who explained that the matter would be one for the International Telegraph and Telephone Conference. Later the Federation made a request for a proposal for amendment of Article 29 of the Atlantic City Convention to be laid before the Plenipotentiary Conference in Buenos Aires. This matter was discussed in connection with other proposals concerning Article 29 of the Convention; as mentioned above under: “ Freedom of Information ”, the Conference decided in favour of the status quo and left Article 29 unchanged.

VII. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO UNDER-DEVELOPED COUNTRIES

Situation of the Union in relation to the Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance:

We shall not here recount the story of how the I.T.U. was admitted as a “ participating organization ” in the Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance, a full account having been given in the Annual Report for 1951.

At its 7th Session (April-June 1952), the I.T.U. Administrative Council considered the matter in detail, and gave its general approval to the arrangements already made with a view to enabling the Union to take part in the Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance. Those arrangements are based on a provisional agreement concluded between the United Nations and the I.T.U. General Secretariat (see Annex 1 to Administrative Council Resolution 244) based on the following principles:

1. The I.T.U. should share in the Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance conjointly with the United Nations and the other specialized agencies.

2. The I.T.U. should be responsible for all the technical aspects of telecommunication Technical Assistance, while the United Nations would be responsible for the administrative questions involved. Thus the I.T.U. approves schemes, seeks experts, gives its views on the institutions to which fellows and scholars should be sent, comments on the experts' reports, etc., while the United Nations concludes agreements with the countries concerned, and looks after all the administrative formalities in connection with the despatch of experts, scholars and fellows, their emoluments, accommodation, etc.

3. The credits of the special account for telecommunication Technical Assistance are posted in the United Nations budget, and it is the United Nations which administers them. They appear, however, under a separate sub-head, so that the reader can keep track of them. During 1952, such credits were to represent 1 % of the total amount in the special account, with a minimum of $200,000.

4. The administrative expenses incurred by the I.T.U. by reason of its participation in the Expanded Programme are refunded by the United Nations.

The agreement reached with the United Nations has been working satisfactorily for nearly a year.

The Buenos Aires Plenipotentiary Conference, having reviewed the whole question on the basis of a report by the Administrative Council, laid down, in its Resolution 25, that the Union should continue its participation in the Expanded Programme on the basis of the agreement reached with the United Nations for 1952.

What the Union has done under the Expanded Programme:

In Annex 8 is a list of the applications for telecommunication technical assistance dealt with since 1 June 1951.

Technical Assistance takes two main forms; it is effected:

Either by the despatch of experts to countries seeking Technical Assistance in the field of telecommunications;

Or by the grant of awards to the specialists of these countries, enabling them to study and/or complete their training in other countries.

As far as the I.T.U. is concerned, it is a relatively simple matter to decide where the holders of awards should be sent. The I.T.U. merely gives its views on the utility of the award in question, and on the country or countries which from the technical point of view are best placed to receive the person concerned, all administrative formalities (incidentally, somewhat long and complex) being looked after by the United Nations.

On the other hand, the part played by the I.T.U. in the recruitment of experts is a much more complicated and delicate matter. Every application for Technical Assistance is submitted to all Members of the Union, which thus have an opportunity of giving their views in each particular case, with an eye to the country requiring assistance and the qualifications of the experts they have available in relation to the special qualifications required, etc. The candidates' files are examined by senior I.T.U. officials, meeting in the Coordination Committee, and technical comments are made thereon for communication to the United Nations, together with all information concerning the candidates. The files are then sent to the country requiring the assistance; it is for this country, in the last resort, to choose its experts.

These activities give rise to a somewhat voluminous correspondence, especially in the shape of circular-letters—a correspondence which some administrations may conceivably find excessive. In addition, it may well be that the delays in recruitment of experts lead the administrations sponsoring the candidates to feel that the departments concerned are slow and inefficient. In fact, both in the United Nations and in the I.T.U., all concerned do their utmost to ensure the success of a difficult experiment still in its infancy. Hence administrations cannot be too strongly urged to go on taking as active a part as they possibly can in Technical Assistance, especially by putting forward candidates for the posts advertized.

VIII. CONCLUSION

The year 1952, even though only just over, already appears in retrospect, as far as the General Secretariat is concerned, a normal year in the period which began with the full implementation of the Atlantic City reforms, in 1950, even if account be taken of the Plenipotentiary Conference. The decisions reached in Buenos Aires in no way affect the way in which sections are organized, nor their duties. Staff numbers have become stable, and duties well defined, and staff efficiency has reached a high level.

The same, I think, can be asserted of the other permanent organs. In this connection, reference may usefully be made to the annual reports by the I.F.R.B. and by the International Consultative Committees, published separately. Those reports, together with this one, will provide the reader with a general picture of Union activities during the past year.

"The Delegation of Pakistan formally declares that Pakistan does not, by signature of this Convention on its behalf, accept any obligation in respect of the Telephone Regulations referred to in Article 13 of this Convention."

2. the following statement:

"The Government of Pakistan have further decided that it is desirable in ratifying the said Convention to say that they expect that Pakistan's exceptional position as a new State will be given due and sympathetic consideration by other Members of the Union, particularly so in the allotment of radio frequencies adequate for the services in Pakistan, since Pakistan's ability to abide by the Radio Regulations and Additional Radio Regulations depends largely upon such allotment."

<sup>18)</sup> The Instrument also covers annexes 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, the Final Protocol and the Additional Protocols to the Convention.

<sup>19)</sup> The Instrument also covers annexes 1 to 5 to the Convention. The Convention was ratified by the Supreme Soviet Praesidium of the Ukrainian S. S. R., with the following reservation regarding Article 13:

25) In addition, the Instrument covers the Final Protocol, the Additional Protocols, the Radio Regulations, the Additional Radio Regulations and the Additional Protocol to the Acts of the International Radio Conference, annexed to that Convention.

The Convention was ratified by the Praesidium of the National Assembly of the People's Republic of Bulgaria with the following reservation to Article 13:

" Since, by virtue of Article 47 of the Radio Regulations annexed to the Convention, implementation of the basic part of the Regulations depends on decisions to be taken by the forthcoming administrative conference mentioned in this article, the question of approving the Radio Regulations on behalf of the People's Republic of Bulgaria will remain open until the work of that conference has been entirely completed."

26) Formerly: Bulgaria.

APPLICATIONS FOR TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE DEALT WITH BY THE UNION SINCE 1 JUNE 1951

(As at 31 March 1953)

A. Requests for experts

Afghanistan

Afg-501 1. Expert in very-high-frequency radio.

Duration of mission: 4 months.

Circular-letter D 2375/Cab of 26 July 1951.

Two Members of the I.T.U. each put forward a candidate. The I.T.U. forwarded these two applications to the United Nations Technical Assistance Administration (U.N.T.A.A.).

Mr. Scoffier (France) was accepted by the Afghan Government for this post.

Afg-503 2. Telecommunication expert (telegraph and telephone networks)

Duration of mission: 4 months.

In this case someone was required to replace an expert whose mission had ended.

In view of the urgent need to replace this expert, the I.T.U. suggested that U.N.T.A.A. should forward the Afghan Government the names of 8 candidates who had already applied for other posts.

U.N.T.A.A. submitted the names of five of these candidates to the Afghan Government.

The Government selected Mr. Sven Ullring (Norway), to take up the post in July 1952.

Afg-504 3. Telephone expert (local networks)

Duration of mission: 6 months.

This request has not yet been formally approved.

Saudi Arabia

Arb-501 1. Telephone expert (manual and automatic exchanges)

Duration of mission: 6 months

Circular-letter D 5/BA/Cab-AT of 28 November 1952.

The names of six candidates were put forward by 6 Members of the I.T.U. The applications are now being studied by the I.T.U.

Arb-502 2. Telephone expert (carrier systems)

Duration of mission: 6 months.

Circular-letter D 6/BA/Cab-AT of 28 November 1952.

The names of four candidates were put forward by 3 Members of the I.T.U. The applications are now being studied by the I.T.U.

Bolivia

Specialist to repair a broadcasting transmitter :

This request was originally submitted by U.N.E.S.C.O.; it was studied by the Coordination Committee, who did not think it justified sending a Technical Assistance expert. This opinion was forwarded to U.N.T.A.A., which nevertheless thought it essential to fill the post because of the extensive programme of assistance that it was giving to that country. U.N.T.A.A. then agreed to find an expert itself.

El Salvador

The Technical Assistance Administration sent the Union, for advice, the final report by a telecommunication expert whom it had sent to El Salvador from July to October 1951, without first consulting the I.T.U.

Ethiopia

Ethiopian Institute of Telecommunications

The I.T.U. was asked to find a director and four instructors to set up this institute.

Eth-502 1. Director of the Institute

Circular-telegram 240/Cab of 23 January 1952.

Duration of mission: one year (with possibility of prolongation).

The names of twenty candidates were put forward by 10 Members of the I.T.U.

These twenty applications were forwarded by the I.T.U. to U.N.T.A.A. U.N.T.A.A. proposed three of the candidates to the Ethiopian Government. The Ethiopian Government has not yet announced its choice.

Eth-503 2. a) Administrative Assistant to the Director

b) Instructor on general questions

c) Telegraph and Telephone Instructor

d) Radio Instructor

Duration of mission: one year (with possibility of prolongation)

Circular-letter 297/Cab of 25 January 1952.

For Post a), the names of 8 candidates were put forward by 4 Administrations.

For Post b), the names of 4 candidates were put forward by 3 Administrations.

For Post c), the names of 6 candidates were put forward by 6 Administrations.

For Post d), the names of 17 candidates were put forward by 3 Administrations.

One Administration put forward the names of 2 candidates but did not specify for which post.

The I.T.U. sent U.N.T.A.A. this list of candidates with its opinions.

Some difficulties arose out of the fact that experts had been recruited outside U.N.T.A.A. The I.T.U. stated that it expected the normal procedure to be respected, and that the experts it had proposed should be considered for the posts.

U.N.T.A.A. proposed 2 candidates for Post a), 1 candidate for Post b), 2 candidates for Post c) and 6 candidates for Post d) to the Ethiopian Government.

The Ethiopian Government has not yet announced its decision.

India

Ind-501 1. Expert in long-distance automatic telephony

Duration of mission: 6 months in 1953.

Circular-letter D 1808/Cab-AT of 17 June 1952.

2 Members of the Union each put forward the name of one candidate.

The I.T.U. forwarded these two applications to the U.N.T.A.A., which submitted them to the Government of India.

Mr. Horsfield (United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland) was selected by this Government for the post.

Ind-502 2. Professor of telecommunication engineering

Duration of post: one year

Circular-letter 1809/Cab-AT of 17 June 1952.

One Member of the I.T.U. put forward the name of a candidate.

The I.T.U. forwarded the application to U.N.T.A.A., which submitted it to the Government of India for approval.

On 16 January 1953, U.N.T.A.A. informed us that the Government of India no longer needed an expert for the post.

Iran

Ira-501 1. Expert in posts, telegraphs and telephones. Head of the P.T.T. Mission in Iran.

This expert was appointed by U.N.T.A.A. in consultation with the I.T.U. This, however, was before the procedure laid down in the Arrangement between the I.T.U. and U.N.T.A.A. had been established.

Mr. Arro (France) was chosen by the Government of Iran for this post.

Ira-505 2. Expert in telephones and telegraphy.

The above comment also applies in this case.

Mr. Laurson (Denmark), whom the Government of Iran originally chose for this post, was replaced at the end of his mission by Mr. Aulard (France).

Ira-502 3. Works Director (overhead lines).

Duration of mission: two years from 1 September 1953.

Circular-letter D 3/BA/Cab-AT of 6 November 1952.
